

PAVORA || What We Do

EST. Oct., 2026 by Paul Ademola

Meet PAVORA

PAVORA is a creative technology studio that takes a founder's idea and turns it into a brand people remember and a website people use.

We bring brand strategy, logo and identity design, UI/UX design and web development under one roof. So instead of hiring a logo designer, a web designer and a developer separately, you work with one team that sees the whole picture, from the first sketch to the live website.

Our promise: Designed with vision. Built for impact.

Who PAVORA is for

PAVORA works with two kinds of businesses.

Startup founders building from scratch: You have an idea, maybe a name, and a lot of ambition. We help you shape that idea into a clear brand, a logo and colours that tell your story, and a website that gets you seen online.

Established businesses ready for a fresh start: You already have customers, but your brand or website no longer matches where you are going. We help you rethink your vision, redesign your logo or website, and make your brand more visible than it was before.

What we do

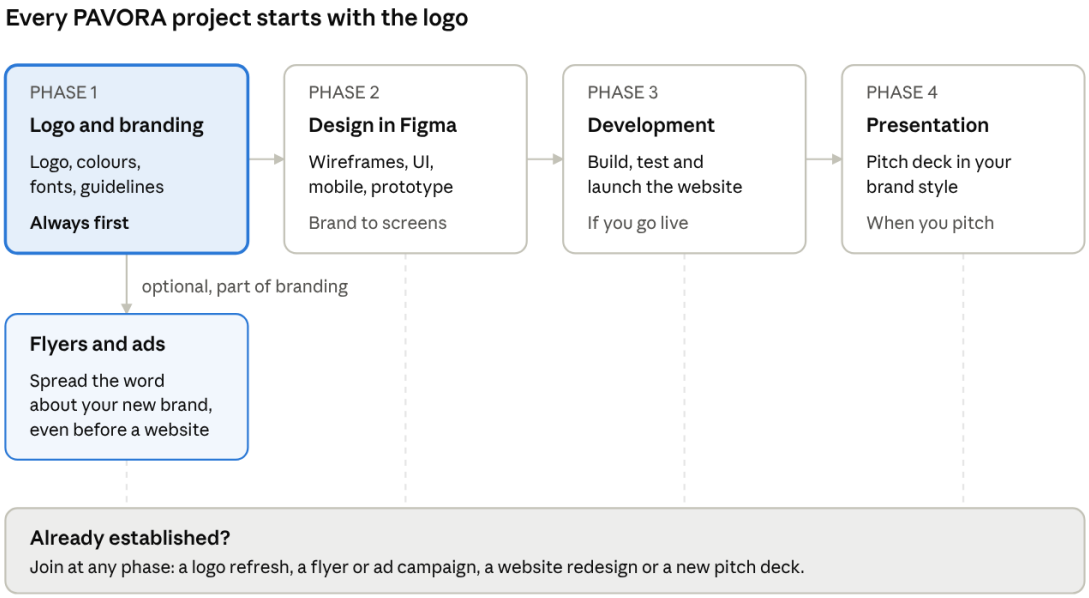

Six services, one goal: help your business look as good as your idea. Every project starts with the logo, because your logo is the foundation of your website and everything else is built on.

Service	What it means for you	What you get
Brand strategy	We dig deep into your idea, your audience and your goals, so your brand says exactly what you stand for.	Brand vision, positioning, tone of voice
Logo & brand identity	We turn that strategy into something people can see and remember. This always comes first.	Logo, colour palette, typography, brand guidelines, mockups
Product design (UI/UX) in Figma	We design websites and apps that are easy and enjoyable to use, so visitors turn into customers.	User flows, wireframes, high-fidelity Figma designs, clickable prototypes
Website development	If you want to go live, we build your Figma design into a fast website that works on every screen.	Landing pages, business websites, responsive builds, launch support
Presentation design	When you are ready to pitch your business or website to investors, partners or customers, we design the deck.	Pitch decks and business presentations in your brand style
Flyers and ads (part of branding)	Right after your logo, even before a website, we design visuals that introduce your brand and help you advertise.	Flyers, social media ads, campaign graphics, banners, posters

You can start with one service, like a logo, or go all the way from idea to a launched website.

How it works

Every PAVORA project follows the same order: logo first, then the Figma design, then development if you want to go live, then a pitch presentation if you want to show your business to others. Flyers and ads are part of the branding phase, so you can start promoting your brand before your website is ready. You can stop after any phase.

How PAVORA works || 5 phases, logo first

Established businesses can jump in wherever they need help, such as a logo refresh, a website redesign, a new pitch deck or an ad campaign.

Phase 1: Logo and brand identity (always first)

Your logo is the foundation. Your website, social media and presentations are all built around it.

1. Discovery call: We talk about your idea, your audience and what makes you different.
2. Research: We study your market and competitors so your brand stands out.
3. Brand strategy: We define your vision, personality and tone of voice.
4. Sketches and concepts: We explore different logo directions on paper and on screen.
5. Logo presentation: We show you the strongest concepts in real-life mockups.
6. Refinement: We polish your chosen logo based on your feedback.
7. Colours and typography: We pick the colours and fonts that match your brand.
8. Brand guidelines and files: You get your final logo files and a simple guide on how to use your brand.

Optional: flyers, ads and campaigns (part of branding)

Once your logo is ready, you don't have to wait for a website to start getting noticed. If you are not ready for the Figma design yet, we can design flyers and ads that introduce your new brand to people, all in your brand style.

1. Campaign brief: We agree on what you are promoting, who it is for and where it will run.
2. Key message: We shape a short, clear message and call to action.
3. Design: We create flyers, social media ads, banners or posters in your brand style.
4. Sizes for every platform: We adapt each design for Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, print or anywhere else you need it.
5. Review: We refine the designs together.
6. Final files: You get print-ready and social-ready files, ready to post or print.

Phase 2: Design in Figma

With your brand ready, we design your website or app in Figma, so you can see and click through it before anything is built.

1. Project brief: We agree on the pages, features and goals of your website or app.
2. Sitemap and user flows: We map out the pages and how visitors move from one to the next.
3. Wireframes: We sketch simple layouts to get the structure right first.
4. Moodboard and style: We apply your new logo, colours and fonts to set the look and feel.
5. High-fidelity design: We design every page in full detail for desktop.
6. Mobile design: We adapt every page so it looks great on phones and tablets.
7. Clickable prototype: You click through your website in Figma like it is already live.
8. Review and revisions: We refine the design together until you are happy.
9. Developer handoff: We prepare the design so it is ready to build.

Phase 3: Development (if you want to go live)

If you want to move forward with the build, we turn your Figma design into a real website.

1. Project setup: We set up the code with React and Tailwind CSS, saved safely on GitHub.
2. Build the pages: We code every page to match the Figma design.
3. Responsive build: We make sure it works smoothly on phones, tablets and computers.
4. Content and features: We add your text, images, contact forms and animations.
5. Testing: We check every page on different devices and browsers.
6. Launch: We put your website live on Vercel and connect your domain.
7. Handover and support: We show you how it works and help you after launch.

Phase 4: Presentation design (when you are ready to pitch)

When your business and website are ready and you want to pitch them to investors, partners or customers, we design your presentation.

1. Story outline: We plan what your pitch needs to say and in what order.
2. Slide design: We design every slide in your brand style.
3. Visuals: We add your website mockups, charts and images to bring your story to life.
4. Review: We refine the deck together until it is ready to present.
5. Final deck: You get your presentation ready to share or present.

Tools we use

We use the same professional tools trusted by top design and tech teams.

Tool	What we use it for
Figma	UI/UX design, website design, prototypes and brand presentations
Adobe Illustrator	Logos, icons and brand graphics
Adobe Photoshop	Image editing, mockups, flyers, ads and social media visuals
React	Building fast, modern websites and web apps
Tailwind CSS	Styling websites so they look sharp on every screen
VS Code	Writing and managing website code
GitHub	Storing code safely and tracking every change
Vercel	Putting websites live online, quickly and reliably

How PAVORA started

PAVORA was founded in October 2026 by Paul Ademola, a product designer, brand strategist and web developer based in Nigeria.

Paul has been designing for more than 7 years, starting with graphic design and logos. In 2024 he moved into web design and development and began freelancing on Upwork and Fiverr, designing websites, apps and brands for clients in countries like the United States and the Netherlands. Again and again, he met founders with great ideas who struggled to find one person who could shape the brand, design the website and build it too.

PAVORA is his answer: one studio that combines all those skills, so a founder can go from idea to a visible, professional brand without juggling different freelancers.

The face behind PAVORA

- Paul Ademola, Founder, Website Designer & Developer
- 7+ years in graphic and logo design, and in web design and development since 2024; rated 4.9 out of 5 across 18 jobs on Upwork
- Skilled in product design (UI/UX), brand strategy and identity, and web development with React and Tailwind CSS
- Biochemistry graduate (2024) who followed his passion for tech into web design and development

Why work with PAVORA

- One team, start to finish: Your brand and your website are designed by the same minds, so everything looks and feels connected.
- Vision first: We think deeply about your goals before we design anything, so the work says what you mean.
- Built to be seen: Every logo, page and post is made to make your business more visible online.
- Flexible: Start with a logo, a website or the full package, whatever fits where you are today.
